

Sponsorship Opportunities

At the Lexington Public Library Foundation, we believe in honoring the past while investing in the future. Through the 1795 Society Lecture Series, we bring nationally recognized voices, authors, and thought leaders for community gatherings that inspire learning, spark dialogue, and strengthen connections.

For corporate partners, investment in these opportunities align directly with social responsibility goals: advancing education, fostering equity of access, and strengthening the workforce of tomorrow. Your sponsorship helps ensure that curiosity, equity, and opportunity—values that have guided Lexington Public Library since 1795—continue to flourish for generations to come.
